10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will [7] put my laws into their mind, and write them [8] in their hearts: and [r] I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:
11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all [t] shall know me, from the least to the greatest 12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.
13 In that he saith, A new [w] covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

THEN verily the first covenant had also [11] ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary. [z]
2 For there was a tabernacle [b] made, the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, [c] and the shew-bread; [d] which is called [12] the Sanctuary.

Digitized by Google

3 And after the second veil [a] the tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all;
4 Which had the golden censer, [b] and the ark [d] of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden [e] pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod [g] that budded, and the tables [h] of the covenant;
5 And over it the cherubim [i] of glory shadowing the mercy-seat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.
6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests [k] went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God
7 But into the second went the high priest alone [l] once every year, not without blood, which he offered for [m] himself, and for the errors of the people:
8 The Holy Ghost this signifying, That the way [o] into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:
9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not [p] make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience; [q]
10 Which stood only in meats [r] and drinks, and divers washings, [s] and carnal [1] ordinances, [t] imposed on them until the time of reformation.
11 But Christ being come an high [w] priest of good [y] things to come, by a greater [z] and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building,
12 Neither by the blood of goats [c] and calves, but by his own [f] blood, he entered in once into the holy place, [h] having obtained eternal redemption for us.
13 For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes [i] of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh;
14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who [j] through the eternal Spirit offered himself without [3] spot to God: purge [k] your conscience from dead works to serve [m] the living God?
15 And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.
16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity [5] be the death of the testator.
17 For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.
18 Whereupon neither the first testament was [6] dedicated without blood.
19 For [p] when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and [7] scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,
20 Saying, This is the blood [c] of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.
21 Moreover [f] he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.
22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood [j] is no remission.
23 It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.
24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear [n] in the presence of God for us:
25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;
26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared, to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.
27 And as it is appointed [u] unto men once to die, but after this [v] the judgment;
28 So Christ [x] was once offered to bear the sins of many; [a] and unto them that look [b] for him shall he appear [c] the second time, without sin, unto [d] salvation.

CHAP. X.

FOR the law, having a shadow [g] of good things to come and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.
2 For then [2] would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.
3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.[l]
4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.[n]
5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, [o] Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared [4] me.
6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sins thou hast had no pleasure:
7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.
8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt-offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;
9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.
10 By the which will we are sanctified, [q]

through the offering [a] of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily [b] ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never [c] take away sins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat [d] down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies [f] be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath [g] perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This [j] is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them.

17 And [2] their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren,[3] boldness to enter into the holiest [m] by the blood of Jesus.

20 By a new and living way [o] which he hath [4] consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having an high priest [p] over the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, in [r] full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled [s] from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he [u] is faithful that promised;)

24 And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as [x] ye see the day approaching.

26 For if [y] we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery [a] indignation which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He [b] that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 Of [d] how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit [f] of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance [g] belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, [h] The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock, both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst ye became [c] companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing [1] in yourselves that ye have in heaven [k] a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great [i] recompense of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience; [k] that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For [l] yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back [n] unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAP. XI.

NOW faith is the [5] substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things [5] not seen,

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand [t] that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel [v] offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he, being dead, [6] yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch [w] was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please [z] him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith Noah, [c] being warned of God of things not seen as yet, [7] moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, [e] when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, [i] dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city [b] which hath foundations, whose builder [c] and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sarah [e] herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful [g] who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many [i] as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died [2] in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed [q] that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned:

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God; [x] for he hath prepared for them a city.[y]

17 By faith Abraham, when [z] he was tried, offered up Isaac; and he that had received the promises, offered up his only-begotten son,

18 [3] Of whom it was said,[d] That in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By faith Isaac [e] blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed [f] both the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, leaning [g] upon the top of his staff.

22 By faith Joseph,[h] when he died, made [5] mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid [j] three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment.[l]

24 By faith Moses,[m] when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter;

25 Choosing [o] rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 Esteeming the reproach [7] of [p] Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompense [q] of the reward.

27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing [r] the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him [t] who is invisible.

28 Through faith he kept the passover,[a] and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them.

29 By faith they passed [d] through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

30 By faith the walls of Jericho [f] fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 By faith the harlot Rahab [h] perished not with them that [1] believed not, when she had received the spies [j] with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of [k] Gedeon, and of Barak,[l] and of Samson,[m] and of Jephthae; [n] of David [o] also, and Samuel,[p] and of the prophets;

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, [r] stopped the mouths of lions,[s]

34 Quenched the violence of fire,[t] escaped [u] the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women [v] received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting [w] deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover, of bonds [a] and imprisonment.[b]

37 They were stoned,[c] they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth

39 And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having [4] provided some better thing for us, that they without [i] us should not be made perfect.

CHAP. XII.

WHEREFORE seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside [k] every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the [6] author and finisher of our faith; who, for the [n] joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation [s] which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 For [b] whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and [c] scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for [f] what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us; and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father [h] of Spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us [2] after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit [i] of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore lift [k] up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees:

13 And make [5] straight [m] paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but [o] let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace [p] with all men, and holiness, without [r] which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Looking diligently [s] lest any man fail [6] of the grace of God; lest any [t] root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16 Lest there be any fornicator, [w] or profane person, as Esau, who [x] for one morsel of meat sold his birth-right.

17 For ye know how that afterward, when [a] he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place [7] of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto the [c] mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which [f] voice they that heard, entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And [h] if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22 But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city [i] of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,[k]

23 To the general assembly and church of the first-born, [l] which are [9] written [m] in heaven, and to God the Judge [o] of all,

and to the spirits of just men [a] made perfect,

24 And to Jesus the mediator [c] of the new covenant, [1] and to the blood [d] of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.[e]

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [g] Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are [3] shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us [4] have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29 For [j] our God is a consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

LET brotherly [l] love continue.

2 Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some [n] have entertained angels unawares.

3 Remember them that are in bonds, [q] as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4 Marriage [u] is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but [v] whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5 Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content [y] with such things as ye have: for he hath said, [z] I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

6 So that we may boldly say, [b] The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7 Remember them which [8] have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith [d] follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8 Jesus Christ the same [e] yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

9 Be [g] not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10 We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without [j] the camp.

12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without [n] the gate.

13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing [a] his reproach:

14 For here [d] have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.
15 By him [g] therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit [1] of our lips, [2] giving thanks to his name.
16 But to do good, and to communicate, [k] forget not: for with such [l] sacrifices God is well pleased.
17 Obey [m] them that [4] have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch [n] for your souls, as they that must give account: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.
18 Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, [o] in all things willing to live honestly.
19 But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

The general Epistle of JAMES.

CHAP. I.

JAMES, a servant [b] of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve [d] tribes which are scattered [e] abroad, greeting.
2 My brethren, count it all joy [g] when ye fall into divers temptations;
3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh [i] patience.
4 But let patience [k] have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.
5 If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that [n] giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and [o] it shall be given him.
6 But [r] let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth, is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.
7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.
8 A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.
9 Let the brother of low degree [1] rejoice in that he is exalted:
10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass [u] he shall pass away.
11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.
12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown [y] of life, which [z] the Lord hath promised to them that love him.
13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with [3] evil, neither tempteth he any man:
14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own [c] lust, and enticed
15 Then when lust hath [c] conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. [f]
16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.
17 Every [h] good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom [j] is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.
18 Of [l] his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits [m] of his creatures.
19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow [p] to speak, slow [q] to wrath:
20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.
21 Wherefore lay apart [s] all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.
22 But be ye doers [t] of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.
23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:
24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.
25 But whoso looketh [v] into the perfect law of liberty, [w] and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man [x] shall be blessed in his [2] deed.
26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, [a] but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.
27 Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, To visit [b] the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted [c] from the world

CHAP. II.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect [a] of persons.

2 For if there come unto your [1] assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel; and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here [2] in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, [g] Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich [i] in faith, and heirs of [4] the kingdom [j] which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that [m] worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the Scripture, [o] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But if ye have respect [p] to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he [r] is guilty of all.

11 For [7] he that said, [t] Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law [w] of liberty.

13 For he [z] shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy, and mercy [11] rejoiceth [y] against judgment.

14 What [z] doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? Can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what [b] doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being [13] alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith [14] without thy works, and I [c] will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils [g] also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when [i] he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 [17] Seest thou how faith [k] wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, [b] Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called [c] the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works [d] a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also was not Rahab [e] the harlot [f] justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the [3] spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAP. III.

MY brethren, be not many [h] masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation. [5]

2 For [k] in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, [l] the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put bits [n] in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue [q] is a little member, and boasteth [s] great things. Behold, how great [6] a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 And the tongue is a fire, [u] a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth [v] the whole body, and setteth on fire the [8] course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every [9] kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed of [10] mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly [a] poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same [12] place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who [d] is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation [f] his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not; and lie not against the truth.

15 This [h] wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, [15] sensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is [16] confusion and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom [j] that is from above is first pure, [l] then peaceable, [m] gentle, [n]

CHAP. IV.

FROM whence come wars and [2] fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your [3] lusts that war [d] in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye [4] kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your [5] lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship [h] of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the Scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth [7] to envy? [k]

6 But he giveth more grace: Wherefore he saith, [l] God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist [n] the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw [p] nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse [q] your hands, ye sinners: and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 Humble [u] yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 Speak [w] not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one Lawgiver, who [a] is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13 Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas, ye know not what shall be on the morrow: For what is your life? It [9] is even a vapour, [d] that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that 16 But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17 Therefore [g] to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAP. V.

and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped [a] treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, the hire [c] of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered [e] into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5 Ye have lived in pleasure [f] on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist [g] you.

7 [6] Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early [i] and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for [j] the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 [8] Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge standeth [m] before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, [o] and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them [r] happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience [s] of Job, and have seen the end [t] of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, swear [v] not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let [x] him pray. Is any merry? let him sing [y] psalms.

14 Is any sick [z] among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if [b] he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confess [c] your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. [e]

17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he [f] prayed [10] earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18 And he prayed again, [h] and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one [j] convert him,

20 Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shal save a soul from death, and shall hide [m] a multitude of sins.

The First Epistle General of PETER.

CHAP. I.

PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered [a] throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect [e] according to the foreknowledge [d] of God the Father, through sanctification [e] of the Spirit, unto [f] obedience and sprinkling [g] of the blood of Jesus Christ; Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied. [i]

3 Blessed [j] be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his [1] abundant [l] mercy hath begotten us again [m] unto a lively hope by the resurrection [c] of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance [p] incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth [q] not away, reserved [r] in heaven for [2] you,

5 Who are kept [t] by the power of God through faith [v] unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need [x] be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That the trial [a] of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with [b] fire, might be found unto praise and [c] honour and glory at the appearing [d] of Jesus Christ:

8 Whom having not [f] seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy [g] unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched [k] diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit [n] of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not [r] unto themselves but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost [t] sent down from heaven; which things the angels [u] desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird [v] up the loins of your mind, be sober, [z] and hope [6] to the end [y] for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

14 As obedient children, not fashioning [z] yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, [b] Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear: [b]

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb [h] without blemish and without spot:

20 Who verily was fore-ordained before [k] the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you;

21 Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and [n] gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth [s] through the Spirit unto unfeigned love [u] of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 Being born [w] again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word [y] of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 [3] For [z] all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this [c] is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

WHEREFORE laying aside [h] all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As new-born babes, [i] desire the sincere milk [j] of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have tasted [l] that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed [m] indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye also, as lively stones, [4] are built up a spiritual house, [o] an holy priesthood, [p] to offer up spiritual [q] sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, [s] Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe, he is [5] precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone [w] which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto [a] also they were appointed.

9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a [7] peculiar [c] people; that ye should shew forth the [8] praises of him who hath called you out of darkness [d] into his marvellous light:

10 Which [a] in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers [d] and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, [e] which war [f] against the soul;

12 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that [1] whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works, [h] which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13 Submit [i] yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that [l] with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 As free, [o] and not [4] using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17 Honour [5] all [p] men. Love [q] the brotherhood. Fear [r] God. Honour the king. [s]

18 Servants, [u] be subject to your masters with all fear: not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19 For this is [6] thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this [w] is acceptable [8] with God.

21 For even hereunto [y] were ye called: because Christ also suffered [9] for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow [a] his steps:

22 Who [b] did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23 Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed [11] himself to him that [c] judgeth righteously:

24 Who his own self bare [d] our sins in his own body [12] on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live [e] unto righteousness: by [f] whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as sheep going astray; [h] but are now returned unto the [j] Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAP. III.

LIKEWISE, ye wives, [l] be in subjection to your own husbands; that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 Whose adorning, [o] let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, [b] in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek [c] and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price

5 For after this manner, in the old time, the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him Lord: [g] whose [2] daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 Likewise, ye husbands, [j] dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered

8 Finally, be ye all of one [k] mind, having compassion one of another; [3] love [m] as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9 Not [n] rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For [r] he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11 Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13 And [v] who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and [x] be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and [z] be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and [10] fear:

16 Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing than for evil doing.

18 For Christ [e] also hath once suffered for sins, the just [i] for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to [k] death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

19 By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison; [m]

20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once [n] the long suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water.

21 The like figure whereunto, even baptism, [p] doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience [q] toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels [a] and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAP. IV.

FORASMUCH then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: [d] for he [e] that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2 That [f] he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3 For [h] the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil [k] of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For, for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged [o] according to men in the flesh, but live [q] according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end [s] of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch [t] unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for [v] charity shall [3] cover the multitude of sins.

9 Use hospitality [x] one to another, without grudging.

10 As every man hath received [z] the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards [b] of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all [e] things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; to [f] whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery [g] trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 But rejoice, [i] inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when [n] his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If [q] ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil-doer, or as a busy-body in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come that judgment must begin [b] at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 And if [c] the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit [g] the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAP. V.

THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory [i] that shall be revealed:

2 Feed [j] the flock of God [1] which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; [l] not for filthy lucre,[m] but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as [2] being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples [n] to the flock.

4 And when the chief [p] Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown [r] of glory that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder: yea, all [u] of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God [w] resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 Humble [y] yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 Casting [a] all your care upon him, for he careth for you.

8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as [c] a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 Whom resist, [d] stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, [k] make you perfect, [i] stablish, [j] strengthen, [k] settle [m] you.

11 To him be [n] glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By Sylvanus, [p] a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye [r] stand.

13 The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Marcus my son.

14 Greet [s] ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace [t] be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The Second Epistle general of PETER.

CHAP. I.

SIMON [1] Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like [a] precious faith with us through the righteousness of [2] God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace [c] be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all [e] things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us [4] to glory and virtue: [g]

4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; [i] that by these ye might be partakers [j] of the divine nature, having escaped [k] the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; [n] and to virtue knowledge; [o]

6 And to knowledge temperance; [p] and to temperance patience; [q] and to patience godliness; [r]

7 And to godliness brotherly kindness; [s] and to brotherly kindness charity. [t]

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be [6] barren nor unfruitful [v] in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things is blind, [w] and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence [x] to make your calling and election sure: for [y] if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir [d] you up, by putting you in remembrance;

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me. [g]

15 Moreover, I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, [i] when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses [k] of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light [b] that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star [d] arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 For the prophecy came not [3] in [f] old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved [h] by the Holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

BUT there [l] were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, [m] who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their [5] pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment [u] now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah [z] the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And turning the cities of [a] Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making [b] them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And delivered just Lot, [c] vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked;

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)

9 The Lord knoweth how to [e] deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve [f] the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly them [h] that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise [7] government: presumptuous are they, self-willed; they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities. [j]

11 Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation [8] against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as natural brute [l] beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

Digitized by Google

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they [b] that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of [2] adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam [f] the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, forbad the madness of the prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds [h] that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when they speak [m] great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were [3] clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for [p] of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again [r] entangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it had been better [t] for them not to have known the way [v] of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, [x] The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAP. III

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That [a] ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before [b] by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, [c] walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, Where [d] is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that [a] by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth [1] standing out of the water [c] and in the water:

6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, [d] perished:

7 But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire [e] against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a [g] thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord is not slack [h] concerning his promise, as some men count slackness, but is long-suffering [i] to us-ward, not willing [j] that any should perish, but that all should [l] come to repentance.

10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief [n] in the night; in the which the heavens [o] shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the works that are therein, shall be burnt up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness;

12 Looking for [q] and [4] hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt [s] with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new [u] heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent [w] that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; [y] even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, [z] speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

18 But grow [e] in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him [f] be glory, both now and for ever. Amen.

3 That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship [b] is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that [d] our joy may be full.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, [e] and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk [k] in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood [l] of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, [o] we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess [q] our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse [s] us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate [v] with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And he is the propitiation [x] for our sins: and not for our's only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep [b] his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth [e] in him, ought himself also so to walk, [f] even as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a new [h] commandment I write unto you; which thing is true in him and in you, because the darkness [k] is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness [l] even until now.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none [1] occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh [n] in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's [p] sake

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him [a] that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father. [c]

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, [f] and the word of God abideth [g] in you, and ye have overcome [h] the wicked one.

15 Love [i] not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If [j] any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, [m] and the lust of the [n] eyes, and the pride [p] of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And [r] the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last [t] time: and as ye have heard [u] that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [w] if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest [y] that they were not all of us.

20 But ye have an unction [z] from the Holy One, and ye know [a] all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but he that [c] denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever [d] denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.

24 Let [g] that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal [i] life.

26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

27 But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth [m] you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in [2] him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him: that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, ye know [3] that [o] every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAP. III.

BEHOLD, what manner of love [a] the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons [b] of God! therefore the world [d] knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now are we the sons [g] of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; [h] for we shall see [i] him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know [m] that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever [o] sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he [r] that doeth righteousness, is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He [t] that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that [u] he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever [v] is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed [w] remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For this is the [1] message that ye heard from the beginning, that [z] we should love one another.

12 Not as Cain, [b] who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if the world [e] hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He [k] that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever [i] hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby [l] perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But [n] whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shuteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how [q] dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, let [r] us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby [s] we know that we are of the truth, and shall [2] assure our hearts before him.

2 persuade.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart [c] condemn us not, then have we confidence [e] toward God.

22 And whatsoever [f] we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And this [j] is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 And he [k] that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby [l] we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAP. IV.

BELOVED, believe [n] not every spirit, but try [p] the spirits whether they are of God; because [q] many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every [s] spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3 And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome [z] them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world: [y] therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby [a] know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love [c] one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God [d] is love.

9 In this [f] was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that [g] we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation [j] for our sins

11 Beloved, if [k] God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 No [m] man hath seen God at any time If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected [o] in us.

13 Hereby [p] know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 Whosoever [t] shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

Digitized by Google

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God [a] is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is [1] our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he [d] first loved us.

20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how [f] can he love God whom he hath not seen.

21 And this commandment have we from him, That [h] he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAP. V.

WHOSOEVER [i] believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 For this is the love of God, that [l] we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not [m] grievous.

4 For whatsoever is born of God overcometh [p] the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came [t] by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit [u] that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, [w] the Word, [x] and the Holy Ghost: [y] and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness [n] earth, the Spirit, [a] and the water, [b] and the blood: [c] and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness [b] in himself: he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and [c] this life is in his Son.

12 He [e] that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13 These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that [g] ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have [2] in him, That, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know [k] that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: [n] I do [o] not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All unrighteousness [q] is sin: and there [r] is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth [s] himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, [v] that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This [z] is the true God, and eternal life.

21 Little children, keep yourselves from idols. [d] Amen.

The Second Epistle of JOHN.

THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that [a] we love one another

6 And this [b] is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That as ye have heard from the beginning ye should walk in it.

7 For [c] many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 Look [d] to yourselves, that [e] we lose not those things which we have wrought, [1] but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not [f] in the doctrine of Christ, hath not

God: He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If [b] there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker [a] of his evil deeds.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face [1] to face, that [2] our joy [c] may be full.

The Third Epistle of JOHN.

THE elder unto the well-beloved Gaius, whom I love [1] in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish [2] above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest [c] in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy [e] than to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest [h] faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring [i] forward on their journey [3] after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking [j] nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to [k] receive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence [a] among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, [b] prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out [d] of the church.

11 Beloved, follow [f] not that which is evil, but that which is good. He [g] that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; and ye know that our record is true.

13 I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak [4] face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

General Epistle of JUDE.

JUDE, [a] the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified [b] by God the Father, and preserved [c] in Jesus Christ, and called: [d]

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common [g] salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend [k] for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, [m] who [n] were before of old ordained to this condemnation; ungodly men, turning [o] the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that [s] the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed [u] them that believed not.

6 And the angels [y] which kept not their [2] first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, [c] under darkness, unto the judgment [e] of the great day.

7 Even as Sodom [g] and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after [1] strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile [e] the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet Michael [f] the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, [h] durst [i] not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord [l] rebuke thee.

10 But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, [p] and ran greedily after the error of Balaam [q] for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core. [r]

12 These are spots [t] in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding [v] themselves without fear: [w] clouds they are without water, carried [x] about of winds; trees whose fruit [z] withereth, without fruit, twice [a] dead, plucked [b] up by the roots;

13 Raging waves [d] of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering [f] stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the [h]

Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints,
15 To execute judgment upon all; [a] and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches [c] which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.
16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.
17 But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;
18 How that they told you [m] there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.
19 These be they who separate [o] themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.
20 But ye, beloved, building [b] up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying [c] in the Holy Ghost,
21 Keep [d] yourselves in the love of God, looking [f] for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.
22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:
23 And others save with fear, pulling [g] them out of the fire; hating even the garment [h] spotted by the flesh.
24 Now [i] unto him that is able to keep [k] you from falling, and to [l] present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,
25 To [n] the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

The REVELATION of St. JOHN the Divine.

CHAP. I.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:
2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.
3 Blessed [h] is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time [k] is at hand.

4 JOHN to the seven [l] churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him [n] which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven [p] Spirits which are before his throne;
5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, [r] and the [s] first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved [u] us, and washed [v] us from our sins in his own blood,
6 And hath made us kings [x] and priests unto God and his Father; to him [y] be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.
7 Behold, he cometh with clouds; [z] and every eye shall see him, and they [a] also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail [c] because of him. Even so, [e] Amen.
8 I [f] am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. [h]
9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.
10 I was in the Spirit [j] on the [k] Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,
11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, [a] and unto Smyrna, [b] and unto Pergamos, [c] and unto Thyatira, [d] and unto Sardis, [e] and unto Philadelphia, [f] and unto Laodicea. [g]
12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven [i] golden candlesticks.
13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one [j] like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.
14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes [m] were as a flame of fire;
15 And his feet [o] like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice [q] as the sound of many waters.
16 And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a [t] sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun [w] shineth in his strength.
17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:
18 I am he that liveth, [b] and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys [d] of hell and of death.
19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;
20 The mystery of the seven [g] stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks [i] which thou sawest, are the seven churches.

who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 I know [b] thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried [d] them which say they are apostles, and are not, [e] and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted. [i]

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen; and repent, and do the first works; [k] or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove [m] thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitanes, [n] which I also hate.

7 He [p] that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree [r] of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; These things saith the first [v] and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 I know thy works and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich [x]) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, [a] and are not, but are the synagogue [c] of Satan.

10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried: and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful [e] unto death, and I will give thee a crown [f] of life.

11 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second [j] death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; these things saith [l] he which hath the sharp sword with two edges:

13 I know [n] thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied [p] my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who [t] taught Balac to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat [v] things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. [w]

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and [a] will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 He [c] that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden [f] manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new [g] name written, which no man knoweth [h] saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes [j] like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19 I [l] know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, [o] which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat [q] things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space [s] to repent of her fornication; and she repented not. [t]

22 Behold, I [u] will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill [w] her children with death; and all the churches [y] shall know that I [z] am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I [b] will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths [d] of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But that [g] which ye have already hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, [k] and keepeth my works [i] unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

27 And [k] he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I [m] received of my Father.

28 And I will give him the morning star. [o]

29 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAP. III.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven [q] Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know [r] thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, [s] and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen [u] the things which remain, that are ready to die for I have not found thy works perfect [x] before God.

pent.[a] If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, [b] and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: [c] for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the [h] book of life, but I will confess [i] his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, [n] he that is true, [o] he that hath the key [p] of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, [q] and no man openeth;

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open [r] door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say [x] they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come [y] and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I [z] also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come [d] quickly: [e] hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God; and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is New [g] Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church [1] of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, [l] the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would [n] thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, I [p] am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

18 I counsel thee to buy [s] of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness [c] do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see.

19 As [d] many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: [f] If [g] any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcometh [j] will I grant to sit [k] with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, [l] and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22 He [m] that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAP. IV.

AFTER this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven; and the first voice [r] which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come [t] up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in [u] the Spirit: and, behold, a throne [v] was set in heaven, and one sat [w] on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine-stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: [a] and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white [b] raiment; and they had on their heads crowns [c] of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings [f] and thunderings and voices: and there were seven lamps [z] of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits [h] of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea [i] of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four [k] beasts, full of eyes before and behind.

7 And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four beasts had each of them six [m] wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they [2] rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who [o] liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns [q] before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthy, [r] O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: [t] for thou hast

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book [b] written within and on the back side, [c] sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion [f] of the tribe of Juda, the Root [g] of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb, [h] as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, [i] which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the book, the four [k] beasts and four and twenty elders, fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, [l] and golden vials full of [2] odours, which are the prayers [m] of saints.

9 And they sung a new [o] song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, [r] out of every [s] kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 And hast made us unto our God kings [u] and priests: and we shall [v] reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the [y] number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy [b] is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And [d] every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, [g] and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 And [i] the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

AND I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals; [a] and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come, and see.

2 And I saw, and behold a white [d] horse; and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, [e] and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, [1] A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou [j] hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: And power was given [3] unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill [n] with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar [p] the souls [q] of them that were slain for [t] the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How [w] long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge [x] our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white [z] robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest [a] yet for a little season, until [c] their fellow-servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; [e] and the sun [f] became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars [h] of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely [4] figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind:

14 And the heaven [j] departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain [k] and island were moved out of their places:

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves [a] in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 And said [c] to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For [f] the great day of his wrath is come; and who [g] shall be able to stand?

CHAP. VII.

AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds [k] of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal [n] of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt [p] not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have [q] sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. [t]

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four [u] thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Isachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of [c] all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed [e] with white robes, and palms [g] in their hands;

10 And cried [i] with a loud voice, saying, Salvation [j] to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 Saying, [l] Amen. Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, [b] and have washed [d] their robes, and made them white in the blood [e] of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell [h] among them.

16 They shall hunger [i] no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. [j]

17 For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall [l] feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe [m] away all tears from their eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, [o] there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And I saw the seven angels which stood [r] before God; and to them were given seven trumpets. [s]

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should [1] offer it with the [v] prayers of all saints upon the golden [w] altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense, [x] which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into [2] the earth: and [y] there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake. [z]

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and [a] there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees [b] was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain [d] burning with fire was cast into the sea: [f] and the third part of the sea became blood; [h]

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died: and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell [k] a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood: [m] and the third part of the waters [n] became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun [b] was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying [c] through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabiters of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound.

CHAP. IX.

AND the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star [i] fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. [j]

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened [k] by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts [m] upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions [n] of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them [p] that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal [q] of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men [u] seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes [x] of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were [y] crowns like gold, and their faces [z] were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth [b] were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of [c] chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and [f] their power was to hurt men five months.

11 And they had a king [h] over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name [2] Apollyon.

12 One [j] woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates. [a]

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared [1] for an hour, and a day and a month, and a year, for to slay the third [e] part of men.

16 And the number of the army [d] of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: [f] and I heard [g] the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions: [h] and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails [l] were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet [o] repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, [q] and idols [r] of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, [t] nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAP. X.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud; and a rainbow [v] was upon his head, and his face [w] was as it were the sun, and his feet, as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders [a] uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal [d] up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth [e] lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And sware by him [g] that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, [i] That there should be time no longer:

7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh [k] angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery [l] of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets

8 And the voice [a] which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, [c] and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAP. XI.

AND there was given me a reed [k] like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure [m] the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court [n] which is without the temple [2] leave out, and measure it not; for [p] it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under [r] foot forty and two months.

3 And I will [3] give power unto my [u] two witnesses, [v] and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth. [x]

4 These are the two [z] olive-trees, and the two candlesticks [a] standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, [c] fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed. [e]

6 These [g] have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters [h] to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast [k] that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make [l] war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street [n] of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom [p] and Egypt, [q] where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves. [t]

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half the Spirit [v] of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; [b] and their enemies [c] beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city [d] fell, and in the earthquake were slain [1] of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave [f] glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second [g] woe is past; and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh [h] angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms [i] of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he [j] shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty [l] elders which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which [o] art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned. [q]

18 And the nations were angry, [s] and thy wrath is come, and the time [t] of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward [w] unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small [y] and great; and shouldest destroy them which [4] destroy the earth.

19 And the temple [b] of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, [d] and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, [f] and great hail.

CHAP. XII.

AND there appeared a great [5] wonder in heaven; a woman [i] clothed with the sun, [j] and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another [5] wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, [m] having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail [o] drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And [r] she brought forth a man child, who [s] was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there [u] a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon and the dragon fought and his angels

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, [c] called the Devil, [d] and Satan, [e] which deceiveth the whole world; he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now [h] is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame [k] him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives [n] unto the death.

12 Therefore [p] rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe [r] to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because [t] he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings [v] of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood, [y] after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, [a] and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAP. XIII.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast [c] rise up out of the sea, having [d] seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the [4] name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was [e] like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon [g] gave him his power, and his seat, [h] and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads, as it were wounded [5] to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered [j] after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who [n] is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a mouth [a] speaking great things and blasphemies and power was given unto him to [1] continue forty [b] and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, [f] and them that [g] dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war [i] with the saints, and to overcome them: and power [j] was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book [l] of life of the Lamb slain from [m] the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear

10 He [o] that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: he [q] that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience [s] and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another [u] beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.[w]

13 And he doeth great wonders, [x] so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the [z] wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give [2] life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship [b] the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he caused all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive [3] a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number [f] of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

CHAP. XIV.

AND I looked, and, lo, a Lamb [1] stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, [k] having his Father's name [l] written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice [m] of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers [o] harping with their harps:

3 And they sung as it were a new [p] song

before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the [a] hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins.[b] These are they which follow[d] the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were [1] redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits [e] unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: [g] for they are without [h] fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the [i] everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every [n] nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for [o] the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon [s] is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If [w] any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drink [y] of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire [d] and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And the smoke [e] of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest [g] day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die [h] in the Lord [3] from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like [k] unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust [m] in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap: for the harvest [o] of the earth is [4] ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was heaped

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire: and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, [c] Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress [f] of the wrath of God.

20 And the wine-press was trodden [i] without [j] the city, and blood [k] came out of the wine-press, even [m] unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues: for in them is filled up the wrath [p] of God.

2 And I saw as it were a sea [q] of glass mingled with fire; [r] and them that had gotten the victory over [t] the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps [u] of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses [v] the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, [w] saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty: just and true are thy ways, [z] thou King of [2] saints.

4 Who [a] shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only [b] art holy: for all [c] nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple [f] of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was filled [i] with smoke from the glory [j] of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven [l] angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; [n] and there fell a noisome and grievous sore [p] upon the men which had the mark [q] of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; [b] and it became as the blood [c] of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; [e] and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, [f] O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and [g] thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, [k] true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; [l] and power was given unto him to scorch men with [m] fire.

9 And men were [1] scorched with great heat, and blasphemed [o] the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and [q] they repented not, to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat [r] of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; [s] and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, [u] and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; [w] and the water thereof was dried up, [y] that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, [z] and out of the mouth of the beast, [a] and out of the mouth of the false prophet. [b]

14 For they are the spirits of devils, [d] working miracles, [f] which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the [g] whole world, to gather them to the battle [h] of that great day of God Almighty.

15 Behold, I come as a thief. [k] Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, [m] and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It [o] is done.

18 And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, [p] such [q] as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great city [t] was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup [t] of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath

20 And [a] every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great hail [d] out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

AND there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore [h] that sitteth upon many waters: [i]

2 With whom [j] the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a [n] scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having [p] seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and [2] decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication. [t]

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, [v] BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS [3] AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken [x] with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, [c] and of the beast [c] that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend [i] out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition, [j] and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, [l] whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads [n] are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the [r] ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 These shall make war [u] with the

Lamb, and the Lamb shall [a] overcome them: for he is Lord [b] of lords, and King of kings: and they [d] that are with him are called, [f] and chosen, [g] and faithful. [h]

15 And he saith unto me, The [i] waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, [k] and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these [l] shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, [m] and shall eat her flesh, and [n] burn her with fire.

17 For God [o] hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled. [q]

18 And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, [r] which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory. [s]

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon [t] the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become [v] the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations have drunk [w] of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the [y] merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance [3] of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out [b] of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 For her sins have reached [c] unto heaven, and God hath remembered [d] her iniquities.

6 Reward her [f] even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7 How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her; for she saith in her heart, I sit a [i] queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly [j] burned with fire: for strong [k] is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And the kings [m] of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! for in one hour [e] is thy judgment come.

11 And the merchants [e] of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more;

12 The merchandise of gold, [j] and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all [1] thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, [2] and souls [p] of men.

14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas! that great city that was clothed [u] in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17 For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, [x] and sailors, and as many as trade by sea stood afar off,

18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What [z] city is like unto this great city!

19 And they cast dust [a] on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 Rejoice [c] over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged [g] you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus [h] with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone [l] shall be heard no more at all in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom [n] and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants [o] were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries [p] were all nations deceived.

24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain [a] upon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

AND after these things I heard a great voice [c] of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; [d] Salvation,[e] and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For true [g] and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged [h] the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke [i] rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise [l] our God all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying; Alleluia; for [n] the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage [p] of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.[r]

8 And to her was granted that she should be arrayed [s] in fine linen, clean and [1] white: for the fine linen is the righteousness [u] of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, Write,[w] Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage-supper [y] of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These [z] are the true sayings of God.

10 And [b] I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus [d] is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white [g] horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful [h] and True, and in righteousness [i] he doth judge and make war.

12 His [j] eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; [k] and he had a name [m] written, that no man knew but he himself.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The [n] Word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed [o] in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth [r] goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod [s] of iron; and he [t] treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING [b] OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come [f] and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war [j] against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast [k] was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake [m] of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword [o] of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls [q] were filled with their flesh.

CHAP. XX.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key [t] of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon,[v] that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan and bound [x] him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit and shut him up, and set a seal [a] upon him that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw thrones,[c] and they sat upon them, and judgment [e] was given unto them: and I saw the souls [f] of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned [l] with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death [p] hath no power, but they shall be priests [q] of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison.

8 And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog [a] and Magog, to [b] gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And [i] they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake [m] of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth [p] and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books [r] were opened: and another book [s] was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according [u] to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and [1] hell delivered up the dead which were in them; and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And death [w] and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire. [y]

CHAP. XXI.

AND I saw a new [z] heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven, and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city, [a] new Jerusalem, coming down from God, out of heaven, prepared as a [b] bride [c] adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle [d] of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, [f] and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all [g] tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, [h] neither sorrow, [i] nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write; for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, It [j] is done. [k] I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is [l] athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit [2] all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 But the fearful, [c] and unbelieving, [d] and the abominable, [e] and murderers, [f] and whoremongers, [g] and sorcerers, [h] and idolaters, [j] and all liars, [k] shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven [l] angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. [n]

10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, [o] the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory [q] of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, [t] and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and [v] in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed [z] to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations [e] of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper: the second, sapphire, the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, [m] neither of the moon, to shine in it for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light [a] thereof.

24 And the nations [b] of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings [c] of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [d] there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And [h] there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book [j] of life.

CHAP. XXII.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 In [n] the midst of the street [o] of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree [r] of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there [s] shall be no more curse: but the throne of God [t] and of the Lamb shall be in it: and his servants [v] shall serve him.

4 And [x] they shall see his face; and his name [z] shall be in their foreheads.

5 And [b] there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: [c] and they shall reign [d] for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true; and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent [f] his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: [h] blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not [d] the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He [f] that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, [g] let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come quickly; [i] and my reward is with me, to give every man according [k] as his work shall be.

13 I [l] am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed [m] are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without [p] are dogs, [q] and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the [u] root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and the bride [w] say, Come.[y] And let him that heareth say, Come. And [a] let him that is athirst, come: and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add [e] unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away [g] his part [1] out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith Surely [i] I come quickly; Amen. Even [j] so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 The [k] grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen

THE END OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

A TABLE

FOR THE DEVOTIONAL AND PRACTICAL READING OF THE BIBLE.

THE following tabular arrangement will assist those who wish to read the Scriptures systematically. It contains three plans. That marked No. I is for reading the Bible in consecutive order—three chapters a day. No. II is for reading two chapters consecutively in the Old Testament each day, and one in the Psalms, Proverbs or New Testament, with two additional on each Sabbath. By following either of these plans the Bible may be read through in a year. No. III refers to a chapter for each day of the year appropriately selected and designed particularly for family reading and devotion.

JERICHO, or City of Palm Trees	Hierachus	Benjamin	ditto	Joshua ii. 1.	Rah	17 E.N.E.	31.54	35.37	ditto	ditto	Damascus.	To this city Joshua sent the spies, whom Rahab the harlot hid; it was the first taken from the Canaanites by the children of Israel, after their passage over the river Jordan. It was strongly fortified, but its walls were thrown down by a miraculous interposition of Jehovah, by the simple blowing of rams' horns; and a dreadful curse was pronounced on any one who should ever attempt to rebuild them, (Joshua vi. 26,) which was afterwards inflicted, (1 K. xvi. 34.)
JERICHO, Waters of		Benjamin	ditto	2 Kings ii. 21.		17 E.N.E.	32. 0	35.40	ditto	Palest.	ditto	The impurity and barrenness of these waters were removed by Elisha.

JERUSALEM, Salem, Jebus, or Ariel	Hierosolyma	Judah and Benjamin.	ditto	Joshua xviii. 28.	El-Khods, Khoddes or El-Gootz	0 0 0	31.47	35.19	ditto	ditto	ditto	Supposed to have been founded by Melchizedek, who named it Salem, (or peace.) It was afterwards taken by the Jebusites, who erected the fortress on mount Zion, which they called Jebus; David drove them out and built a new city on mount Zion, which was afterwards called the city of David. He made it the seat of his government, brought the ark of the covenant to it from Kirjath-jearim, and died and was buried here. In this city was the celebrated temple of Solomon, which was afterwards destroyed by Nebuzaradan, under Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and the spoils were carried to Riblah.*

JEZREEL		Judah	ditto	Joshua xv. 56.		20 S.	31.27	35.20	ditto	ditto	Damascus.

* The temple was restored by command of the God of Israel, and of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia, under Zerubbabel; and all the vessels, &c. taken from the house of the Lord, by Nebuchadnezzar, were given up. The wall and city were restored, under Nehemiah, by men who were obliged to have arms in one hand and working-tools in the other. It afterwards fell into decay, but was rebuilt by Herod the Great, and became the principal scene of the life of our Lord, and subsequently also of that of his Disciples, until the persecution of the Christians by Herod, when they were scattered abroad.

Jerusalem, [the vision or possession of peace] the metropolis of the kingdom of Judah, and the seat of government during the reigns of David, Solomon, and their successors. It was called Salem in the time of Abraham, Gen. 14. 8; Heb. 7. 2;—and it was called Jebus at the time Israel obtained possession of the Holy Land, Josh. 15. 8; 18. 28; 1 Chr. 11. 4. It seems probable, therefore, that the name Jerusalem, is merely a compound of the terms Jebus and Salem. In its most flourishing state, it consisted of four parts, built on four hills; namely, Zion, Acra, Moriah, and Bezetha. In fact the whole foundation was a high rock, with four heads or hills, and with steep ascents on every side, except the north; and surrounded with a deep valley, which was embosomed with hills. The city was encompassed with three walls, over which there were towers; and appears to have been about four miles and a half in circumference. It was taken by the children of Judah, Judg. 1. 8;—recovered by the Jebusites, 21;—by David, 2 Sam. 5. 6; 1 Chr. 11. 4;—expostulated with and threatened for its crimes, Jer. 1. 15; 2; 3; 4. 19; 5; 6; 7; 8; 9; 10. 17, &c.; 11. 1, &c.; Ez. 21; 22. 1, &c.;—described as an exposed infant, 16. 1, &c.;—taken by Nebuchadnezzar, 2 Kings 25 4; 2 Chr. 36. 17; Jerem. 39. 1; 52. 4, &c.;—burned, 52. 12;—represented as a female captive, Isa. 3. 26;—its desolation lamented, Lam. 1, &c.;—its captivity represented by a figure, Ezek. 4. 1; 5. 1;—to be rebuilt, Jerem. 31. 38;—built after the captivity, Nehem. 3. 1, &c.;—after much opposition, 4. 1, &c.;—its walls finished, 6. 15;—its inhabitants chosen by lot, 11. 1, &c.;—the dedication of its walls, 12. 27;—its future state, Ezek. 48. 30;—its new name, 35;—Christ's lamentation over it, Matt. 23. 37;—foretells the destruction of the temple, and of it, 24. 2—28;—and represents the gospel, Gal. 4. 26;—a new one descending from heaven, Rev. 21. 2, 10.

They appear to have been acquainted with the art of Ventriloquism, by which they made the sounds of their voice to be heard, as if they issued from their belly, or from the ground; and then pretended that it was the evil spirit speaking, Isa. 8. 19; 29. 4. By this, and other impostures, they deceived men, and excited a belief and dread of their power, as if they had been able to reveal secrets, and to perform deeds, beyond the province of mortals. On these accounts God was justly displeased with them, and required them to be cut off, Ex. 22. 18; Lev. 20. 27; Deut. 18. 10, 11.

Year, is either solar, or lunar, or civil. The solar year is measured by the apparent motion of the sun through the 12 signs of the zodiac, and consists of 365 days, 5 hours, and 48 minutes. The lunar is measured by 12 lunations, or revolutions of the moon from change to change, and is 11 days less than the solar, consisting of 354 days, 8 hours, and 48 minutes. And the civil is that which, for convenience, computes by whole days; and among us, consists of 365 days, and every fourth year of 366. Among the Hebrews the year was partly lunar and wandering, and partly solar and fixed. It consisted ordinarily of 12, and occasionally of 13 synodical months, alternately of 29 and 30 days each, so that two months included two moons, and the one of these years 354 days, and the other no less than 383 days. As the former of these falls 11 days short of the true or solar year, they were compelled, in order to keep their festivals at the proper season, to add a whole month to the year as often as it was needful, commonly once in three, and sometimes once in two years. This intercalary month was added at the end of the year, after the month Adar, and was therefore called Veadar, or a second Adar. The year was also distinguished into the civil, and the sacred or ecclesiastical year. The civil year commenced on the fifteenth of our September, because it was an old tradition that the world was created at that season; and by it they computed their jubilees, and dated all contracts, the birth of children, and the reign of kings. The months of this year, consisting alternately of 29 and 30 days, are exhibited in the annexed table, with the corresponding months of our year:

1 Tisri, to part of	Sept. and October.
2 Marchesvan,	October and Nov.
3. Chisleu or Kisleu,	Nov. and Dec.
4. Thebet,	Dec. and January.
5 Sebat,	January and Feb.

9. Sivan,	May and June.
10. Thammuz,	June and July.
11. Ab,	July and August.
12. Elul,	August and Sept.

Year, the sacred or ecclesiastical, began in March, or the first day of the month Nisan, because at that time they departed out of Egypt, Ex. 12. 1; Lev. 23. 5;—by this year they computed their festivals, and the prophets also occasionally dated their oracles and visions, Zech. 7. 1. The months of this, with the corresponding months of our year, are here presented:

1 Nisan or Abib,	March and April.
2. Jayar or Zif,	April and May.
3. Sivan,	May and June.
4. Thammuz,	June and July.
5. Ab,	July and August.
6. Elul,	August and Sept.
7. Tisri,	Sept. and October.
8. Marchesvan,	October and Nov.
9. Chisleu or Kisleu,	Nov. and Dec.
10. Thebet,	Dec. and January.
11. Sebat,	January and Feb.
12. Adar,	Feb. and March.

HOLY SCRIPTURES

OF THE

OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS:

BY WHICH

ALL, OR MOST, OF THE PRINCIPAL TEXTS OF SCRIPTURE
MAY BE EASILY FOUND OUT.

BY JOHN BROWN,
LATE MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL AT HADDINGTON, IN SCOTLAND.

Search the Scriptures: for—they testify of me.—JOHN v. 39. The Bereans were more noble—in that they—searched the Scriptures daily.—ACTS xvii. 11.

REVISED AND CORRECTED

Digitized by Google

TO THE READER.

1. THAT this Concordance doth not pretend to comprehend more than any other larger ones, but to contain the principal substance of them all in little room.

2 By observing one or more principal words of any remembered text, and what are the three first letters of them, and searching under answerable words in the Concordance, the sentence will be found.

3. The original words, whether Nouns or Verbs, are marked in CAPITAL letters, and those derived from them come after in Italics.

4. Where words are found in many places, the plural is distinguished from the singular; and the parts of verbs ending in—ed,—est,—eth, from their original. But when the examples are few, no such distinction is made, but may be easily observed.

5 The Concordant words, except the first, are marked by the first letter a. b. c. &c. and the mark —— stands for several words above marked in Italics. Divine persons are noted by answerable Capitals.

6. Even other words, especially names of divine persons, are often marked by one or more of their first letters, that the sense of the line might be more complete.
